OLGA FILIUSHKINA

FRONT END WEB DEVELOPER

I'm a front-end web developer from Toronto, ON. I channel my interests in visual communication and computer technology to find creative solutions and bring my ideas to life on the web. Coming from a science background I have strong technical communication skills, and I pride myself in writing clean modular code. I aim to build socially responsible apps that put user experience and accessibility to the forefront.

FEATURED PROJECTS

ANALOG

Repo | Live

A creative exercise in a form of a digital drawing app. The user gets a one word prompt and is asked to draw it, then post their drawings to a public gallery to share their interpretation with other users.

React | Firebase | HTML Canvas

COLOR GRID GENERATOR

Repo | Live

A grid gallery generator, that uses images retrieved from Unsplash API based on user's choice of color. The gallery grid can be adjusted, and the user can grab HTML and CSS code for it.
